At first, describe your reasons for applying to this department and your future career plan. Then, based on them, describe your research plan for the master's course. Your research plan should include the background, the objectives, and the concrete plans of your research. Figures and tables may be included as necessary. You should write in 1000 words in total excluding your figures, tables and references. On the last page, please include a one-page conceptual figure of your research plan, which includes background, purpose, methodologies and expected outcomes. This conceptual figure is also not counted in the word count.
